VOLUME CVII.--NO. 282. ALEXANDRIA, VA., FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 23, 1906. PRICE 2 CENTS.

READ AND YOU WILL LEARN

That the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice endorse and recommend, in the strongest terms possible, each and every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia, catarrh of stomach, "liver complaint," torpid liver, or biliousness, chronic bowel affections, and all catarrhal diseases of whatever region, name or nature. It is also a specific remedy for all such chronic or long standing cases of catarrhal affections and their resultants, as bronchial, throat and lung diseases (except consumption) accompanied with severe coughs. It is not so good for acute colds and coughs, but for lingering, or chronic cases it is especially efficacious in producing perfect cures. It contains Black Cherry bark, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Stone root, Mandrake root and Queen's root—all of which are highly praised as remedies for all the above mentioned affections by such eminent medical writers and teachers as Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Med. College; Prof. Hare, of the Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago, and scores of others equally eminent in their several schools of practice.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes, that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. Open publicity of its formula on the bottle wrapper is the best possible guaranty of its merits. A glance at this published formula will show that "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no poisonous or harmful agents and no alcohol—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead. Glycerine is entirely unobjectionable and besides is a most useful ingredient in the cure of all stomach ills as well as bronchial, throat and lung affections. There is the highest medical authority for its use in all such cases. The "Discovery" is a concentrated glyceric extract of native, medicinal roots and is safe and reliable.

A booklet of extracts from eminent, medical authorities, endorsing its ingredients mailed free on request. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE DISMISSED SOLDIERS.

An interesting phase of the situation arising from the order of President Roosevelt discharging without honor Companies B, C and D of the Twenty-fifty Infantry—following an affray in which negroes of this command were involved at Brownsville, Texas—developed yesterday in New York when it became known that lawyers, acting in the interest of the Constitutional League, were now in the West taking testimony of witnesses and in other ways endeavoring to obtain exact facts.

It had been learned also that arrangements have been completed by citizens of New York, Chicago and Philadelphia for bringing East the three companies as soon as their discharge papers have been signed. The men of these companies will be clothed and cared for by a committee selected for the purpose, and plans have been so arranged that any citizen who is interested in the case and who desires to hear the soldiers' side of the story will have access to the men.

Just how long the discharged regulars will be held together in company formation has not yet been decided, but pains will be taken to see that not a single non-commissioned officer or private suffers for lack of food, lodging and eventually employment. At the present time the soldiers are at Fort Reno, Oklahoma.

There is little doubt that the league will seek legal recourse looking toward reinstatement of the discharged soldiers.

Under test of litigation the league hopes the President's action may prove not to have been well founded in law. Those at work at Fort Reno and at Brownsville have made rapid progress—so much so that the league will be in a position to make its first move at such time as it is deemed best suited to the ends in view.

The sentiment among negroes generally is that no member of the race should enlist in the Twenty-fifth Infantry while the government maintains its present attitude, and it may be said that organized efforts will be made to discourage such enlistment.

St. Paul's Toppling Over.

The architect to St. Paul's Cathedral in London has made the startling discovery that the southwest tower of the cathedral is leaning 13 inches to the south and that its movement has by no means ceased. The flooding of the underground railway in the vicinity of the the cathedral has made constant pumping necessary. This operation, by withdrawing the moisture from the soil, has caused a gradual subsidence of the south side of Ludgate Hill and St. Paul's churchyard.

The discovery probably will compel the abandonment of the proposed sewer near the cathedral. Experts say that the excavation for the sewer would materially increase the risk of further subsidences.

Nearly two years ago it was discovered that the cross which surmounts the dome of St. Paul's, nearly 400 feet above the ground, was three feet out of plumb, and Mr. Hovenden, secretary of the London Association, then said:

"St. Paul's is built upon a foundation of potearth under which is a bed of water-bearing gravel.

"Beneath that again is London clay. The danger has been caused by the gravel bed sinking owing to its moisture being withdrawn by pumping for the various tunnels in the vicinity.

"Besides St. Paul's Cathedral, the Bank of England, Westminster Abbey the Nelson column on Trafalgar Square and other notable structures are said to be in grave danger from the same cause."

American Federation of Labor

The convention of the American Federation of Labor warmed up again in Minneapolis Wednesday when the question of levying an assessment against the Federation in favor of the striking structural iron workers of the country came up. The matter was referred to the executive committee.

Frank M. Ryan, of the Structural Iron Workers, said 3,000 of his men were out at present, and that their ranks were being added to. He said most of the men had been on strike for sixteen months, and that there was urgent need of funds for carrying on the fight, asking for an assessment of 4 cents from each member of all bodies affiliated with the National Federation.

It developed that some international unions would be unable to bear increased burdens. James M. Lynch, speaking for the International Typographical Union, said his organization was paying out $31,000 a week for strike benefits, and he did not see how his members could bear any further burdens.

The action of the Iowa Federation of Labor in condemning Judge Smith McPherson, of the United States court, for his action against striking machinists of the Santa Fe Railroad, was sustained by the convention.

Fortunate Missourians.

"When I was a druggist, at Livonia, Mo.," writes T. J. Dwyer, now of Graysville, Mo., "three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery, and are well and strong today. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after using New Discovery a short time he found it unnecessary to do so. I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence." Surest Cough and Cold cure and Throat and Lung healer. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists, 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Attacks Duke Divorce.

The divorce secured in the Court of Chancery of New Jersey by James B. Duke, the millionaire tobacco magnate, was attacked in Trenton, N. J., yesterday in the Court of Errors and Appeals at the instance of the defendant in the litigation, Mrs. Lillian N. Duke, who appealed to the higher tribunal after her denial of unfaithfulness and her countercharges against the husband had failed to prevent the annulment of the marriage so soon after the wedding day.

Mrs. Duke's ground for attacking the divorce, outlined by her counsel yesterday, was lack of jurisdiction, she claiming that Mr. Duke is a resident of New York and not of New Jersey. According to the contention of Mrs. Duke, the million-dollar mansion and grounds of equal magnificence which Duke established at Somerville, near Trenton, merely constitute a summer resort for him and a place where he can spend an occasional week-end or Sunday. Her lawyers said that following the Duke wedding "at-home" cards were issued giving New York as the couple's place of residence, and that the metropolitan city was Mrs. Duke's place of abode, and that where a man's wife lived was that man's home.

Counsel for Mr. Duke took issue with this view of the case and insisted that Mr. Duke was a resident of New Jersey, Somerville being his voting place and his legal home. His residence there, it was contended, was kept open all the year round. Decision was reserved.

AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 23, 1906.

OTILIA SCHNEIDER, a female member of the Salvation Army, was attacked by "spiritual frenzy" in New York yesterday, and before she could be restrained she shot Dr. Frederick Bierhoff, her benefactor, and wounded two other men. The shooting took place near the main entrance to Central Park. The mad woman shrieked out in a wild frenzy as she sent one bullet after another whistling about the ears of the scattering crowd. Mothers and nursemaids, screaming with terror, dragged children into doorways, while men scattered in every direction. In the midst of the panic she had created the woman stood waving her empty pistol and yelling at the top of her voice. The woman who used the pistol is a very tall, very thin woman of 48 years She wore the familiar blue poke bonnet, and a badge of the Salvation Army pinned on the breast of her blue jacket. She had blue goggles on her eyes. Her gray hair was parted in the middle and drawn down in wazes on her sunken cheeks in a queer fashion. Policemen ran towards the woman, and she struck at them with her useless revolver as they closed in on her. "Glory Hallelujah!" she yelled. "God told me to do it, and now it is done." She was disarmed with difficulty and kept saying: "Bierhoff stole my ideas. I came back from Paris with splendid ideas, and he stole them from me." In connection with the above it may be stated that Walter E. Finney, 20 years old, was taken into custody today charged with being the New York firebug. He said he had been commissioned by God to scourge the city with fire on account of its wickedness over religion. He showed great familiarity with the fires of yesterday, as well as many other recent incendiary blazes. "I am the chosen of the Lord, and he has given me a mission to perform. I am commissioned to scourge sinners by fire," said Finney, to the police. A quarter of a century ago the malady from which these individuals are suffering was termed "Guiteauism," President Garfield having become the victim of one Guiteau, a religious fanatic. There are many overzealous people in this world who dream they are inspired and that "revelations" are made to them. They generally make nuisances of themselves, and there is always danger of them developing into murderers. All such should be watched on general principles.

THAT THE United States is in Cuba to stay is becoming more patent daily. A cotemporary compares this country to the hunter who had a by lion the tail, and found less danger in holding on than in letting go. The owners of real estate and the native industrial and financial operators in the island as well as foreign investors are frankly desirous of an indefinite protectorate. It is suggested by those who desire the United States not to relax its hold upon the lion's tail that professional politicians and revolutionists and the unstable negro and hybrid population who make up the body of their following, and who are a very considerable part of the population, find their interest in social unrest and disorder. With an unlimited suffrage and fair elections there is hardly a doubt that the stable and conservative interests would become a prey to contending factions mainly led by political adventures. It is also observed that the past history of Cuba and the conditions existing in other of the West India Islands where the mixed populations have been left free to manage their own affairs make the future prospect full of foreboding. Besides the island is so near the United States and is of such commercial and strategical importance that this nation must always be profoundly interested in its affairs. In fact it could not consent to its seizure by any of the great powers. But late experience in the management of colonial dependencies forbids further experiment in that direction. This country has enough on its hands already. Perplexities in dealing with its own racial questions under a constitutional form of government are sufficiently vexing without venturing farther afield. Under such circumstances it requires no prophet to foresee that the Cuban entanglement in which this nation is now fairly enmeshed will outlast many administrations.

BECAUSE his teacher refused to grant him permission to go hunting, James Dougherty, 16 years old, shot and seriously wounded Prof. J. E. Kohler, principal, and Meade Snyder, his assistant at Punxsutawney, Pa., yesterday. Following the afternoon session of school young Dougherty ran to his home, secured a shotgun, and, meeting the teachers on the road from school, demanded that he be given permission to go hunting. The teachers refused again, and the boy fired at them. Professor Synder received part of the charge in his face, body and legs, while Professor Kohler was only slightly injured in the legs. Professor Snyder's condition is critical. Young Dougherty was arrested. The crime committed by this boy was in all probability inspired by some of the trashy literature which is prepared for the intellectual appetites of the young. On every newsstand such reading matter, illustrated in an attractive manner, is exposed for sale. Laws have been enacted debarring indecent literature from the mails and preventing such from being exposed for sale, and it would seem that the time has come when certain nickle prints should be kept from boys as well as toy pistols.

IN THIS land of full and plenty, with employment for all who desire it, a glance at conditions in portions of Russia should cause those who fail to appreciate the fact that their lines have fallen to them in pleasant places to become conservative, at least, in these days of unrest, when evil men are endeavoring to array class against class. The unfortunate state of affairs in Russia is due in a large measure to the revolutionary propaganda which has for years been carried on in that country. A dispatch from St. Petersburg states that the distress is steadily growing acute in the famine districts. The peasantry in the government of Kazan have been driven to desperation and are selling their daughters into slavery to the Mohammedans of the Caucasus in order to keep them from starving to death. The ages of the girls sold range from twelve to seventeen years, and the prices realized and $50 to $75. A form of typhus fever, known as "hunger typhus," resulting from starvation, is epidemic in Kazan.

PRIDE and vanity and a desire for ostentation on the part of the average individual, rather than an increase in the cost of raw products or manufacture, are the causes for the present high price of foodstuffs, according to Dr. Le Grand Powers, agricultural statistician of the Census Bureau, and what the doctor says is worthy of consideratson.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, Nov. 23.

Much to the surprise of officials of the Department of Agriculture, they have on their hands a treefull of lemons when they were expecting oranges. However, the discovery made today is regarded as of the greatest importance, and it may mean a revolutionizing of the lemon growing industry of this country. Several months ago Professor B. T. Galloway, Chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry, and Herbert W. Webber, his assistant, began experiments on grafting a Florida orange tree and the Japanese orange tree known as La Foliata. Their object was to get an orange tree that would grow in a climate cooler than that of Florida and southern California. The Japanese La Foliata is a hardy tree and produces oranges in a cool climate, and it was believed that a hybrid would be just the thing to introduce orange growing in states farther north than Florida. Instead of oranges it will be lemons, a fruit almost equally as valuable, and one of which California, according to statistics, has produced more than ninety per cent. When the fruit was ready to pick today several supposed oranges were taken off the tree and peeled. It was found that they were thin-skinned and they gave every appearance of the orange until one of the assistants bit one of them. The puckering of his lips told the tale plainer than his words. The fruit looks like an orange in shape and color and only its sourness is different from the sweeter product. This tree, it is believed will grow and produce lemons as far north as Tennessee, North and South Carolina, Arkansas and other states in the same longitude.

One of the first things President Roosevelt will take up on his return from Panama next week, will be the confidential report Secretary Metcalf has prepared on the trouble in San Francisco over the demands of the Japanese to be admitted to the schools with white pupils. Secretary Metcalf refuses to discuss the matter and if his report or any part of it is made public, it probably will come from the President.

Reports from A. B. Alexander, the special repesentative of the Department of Commerce and Labor in Newfoundland, which have been received by the State Department announce the arrest of another colonial fisherman for violation of the local fishing laws and for selling bait to American fishing vessels. This makes the third arrest made by the colonial authorities for the purpose of testing the efficacy of the local laws in connection with the modus vivendi which extends certain privileges to American fishermen for the present season.

Dr. James G. McKay figures in the Bassett divorce case. Mrs. Bassett ascribes to him, who some years ago was manifestly the family doctor, the credit for keeping Mr. Bassett in ignorance of his real personal feelings toward him, during the summer of 1904. Brasett asserts that when her husband went away in May she had made up her mind never to live with him again, because of his alleged cruel treatment of her. She says that Dr. McKay not only advised her to continue to write loving letters to her husband, but also told her not to irritate him for fear he might come to Washington and kill all of them. Mrs. Bassett says the physicians told her she must pursue this course until her plans were settled as to the future.

Col. William I. Pitcher, commanding the Seventeenth Infantry in Cuba, has denied to the War Department that he was correctly quoted in the Chicago newspapers in connection with the dismissal of three batallions of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, colored. In ordering the dismissal of these troops, the President directed that Col. Pitcher be called upon for an explanation of his alleged remarks criticising negro troops.

Consul General Frank H. Mason, who is now stationed at Paris, but who for many years served at Frankfort and Berlin, Germany, has been appointed a member of the United States Commission which is now in Germany for the purpose of consulting with tariff experts of that country with a view to a revision of the customs regulations and tariffs of the two nations in an effort to avert a threatened commercial war. Mr. Mason is an Ohio man but has been in the service in Europe for over twenty years.

If Congress is going to investigate the death of Robert Vance Freeman, a member of Dr. Wiley's first "poison squad," Secretary of Agriculture Wilson has not been informed. "I know nothing of any movement being on foot to start a congressional inquiry," said the Secretary, "but I will be a willing witness should they see fit to call me. As to this particular case I have no report from Dr. Wiley and have asked for none. I have left the details of such maters to Dr. Wiley and have perfect confidence in him."

Samuel Gassenheimer, who was tried several times on the charge of receiving embezzled railroad tickets, this morning entered a plea of guilty and paid a fine of $100. This action, it is said, was directed by the Department of Justice.

It has been decided that the trial of Mrs. Jennie L. May, who shot Lucien Conen, a member of the Marine Band, will begin in the Criminal Court next Monday. Under the law, since Conen lived more than a year from the day he was shot, Mrs. May can only be tried for assault with intent to kill.

After engaging in a life-and-death struggle on the edge of a roof in New York yesterday a detective felled his prisoner with his club, and later was forced to rescue him from a mob who demanded his life for an alleged attack on a four-year-old girl. The screams of the little girl aroused every one in the the neighborhood.

The National Grange Convention adopted resolutions condeming free seed distribution by the government as being of no benefit, opposing a national fertilizer law and favoring amendment of the oleomargarine law by striking out the word "knowingly," to the end that convictions may be procured for violation of the law.

As a reward of the suspension of the order of President Roosevelt discharging the Twenty-fifth Infantry, not a few of the colored people of the District of Columbia are in favor of declaring that Secretary of War Taft will be their candidate for the Presidential election in 1908 and that the negro race will stand solid for the fulfillment of their present plans. Congress will probably investigate the discharge of the troops.

Among the bills against Count de Castellane presented to the court by creditors was one for $37,400 for Gobelin tapestries and another for $24,000 for jewels purchased from Mlle. Vera Nimidoff, of Odessa. This bill revealed an interesting tale. Mlle. Nimidoff's brother, a revolutionist, was killed by order of the government, entailing the ruin of the family. Mlle. Nimidoff then came to Paris, where she sold the jewels to Boni.

The New York Chamber of Commerce held its 138th annual dinner, last night Baron Speck von Sternburg and Sir Mortimer Durand were the chief speakers. Mr. Jesup, the toast master, made an unfortunate slip, which he later corrected. According to the programme, the health of King Edward should have been drunk after that to the President, but the toastmaster skipped this and proposed a toast to Emperor William II, and then to the President of France.

Vivian Langdon, the 14-year-old girl whose disappearance from the home of her parents in Fishkill, N. Y., Wednesday night, caused her mother to send out a general alarm of kidnapping, was brought back to her home yesterday afternoon. She was found in a department store in Poughkeepsie. She was in company with Lottie Jacklyn, the 17-year-old colored servant, whose disappearance simultaneously with Miss Langdon's led to the belief that the younger girl had been kidnapped. A saleswoman's suspicions were aroused, and she got the white girl away from the other and persuaded her to tell her name and address. The colored girl became suspicious, and left the store hurriedly. She has not been found.

COURT OF APPEALS.

Among the numerous decisions handed down by the Court of Appeals in Richmond yesterday, the one of perphaps the most general interest is that in the Commonwealth of Virginia vs. the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, commonly spoken of as the two-cent rate case.

Judge Cardwell delivered the opinion of the court which affirms the decision of the State Corporation Commission, holding that the act of the Legislature requiring railroad companies to keep on sale mileage books of 500 miles and over at a charge of not more than two cents a mile is in conflict with the fourteenth amendment of the constitution of the United States.

The opinion of the court adopts the greater part of the opinion of the Corporation Commission as its own, and fully sustains the view taken by that body, that the case is controlled by a decision of the United States Supreme Court, in Railway Company vs. Smith, referred to as the "Michigan case."

After quoting from the opinion of the Corporation Commission, the court reviews the cases relied on by the Commonwealth, as overruling the decision in the Michigan case, and the contentions made by the attorney-general in reference to the dissimilarity of the Michigan and the Virginia statutes, and reaches the conclusion, as did the Corporation Commission, that the decision in the Michigan case is conclusive upon it on the question of the constitutionally of the statute under consideration.

It is said that the provisions of the two statutes are practically the same and the reasoning for holding the one a violation of the provisions of the fourteenth amendment applies as well to the others; that clearly the dominant idea running through the opinion in the Michigan case was that the statute was class legislation and not for the benefit of the whole people, and, therefore, the same judgment would have been rendered had the Michigan legislature not fixed a maximum scale of passenger rates.

The following were among the opinions handed down yesterday by the Court of Appeals:

The Gillette Trial.

Herkimer, N. Y., Nov. 23.—Woven with the warp and woof of circumstances that all point toward guilt, the strength of the State's case against Chester E. Gillette, on trial for the murder of Grace Brown, may force the defense to interpose a plea of guilty of murder in the second degree. Gillette's counsel has previously considered the advisability of agreeing to a plea for lesser degree of murder be accepted. It is doubtful if District Attorney Ward will consent to any such plea at this time.

"Gillette is guilty, and we have proved it," said District Attorney Ward today.

Medical testimony will be produced today to show that Grace Brown was either dead or practically so before her body was thrown into the water. Her head was fearfully battered and bruised, which will be testified to today by those who brought the body to the surface of Big Moose Lake, and by the physicians who performed the autopay. There were hemorrhages of the brain, and these could only have come from blows administered while the girl was living. District Attorney Ward will tell the jury that Grace Brown was struck several times over the head with a tennis racket while in the boat and then thrown overboard. The tennis racket with the handle split as if from the force of a blow, was found later in the woods through which Gillette had passed on his way to Eagle Bay the night of the girl's death.

Thomas Barrett, a guide of Big Moose, who testified yesterday that he saw Gillette and Grace Brown on the boat with a dress suit case just before six o'clock when the girl is alleged to have been killed, was on the stand again today.

The defense planned to show that Gillette left the suit case on the shore that afternoon and after the girl was drowned walked back on the shore to get it.

The prosecution, through Barrett's testimony, endeavored to show that the suit case was in the boat a few minutes before the girl was drowned, and from the fact that the suit case was not wet, the State holds that the boat was not overturned, otherwise the case too would have been thrown overboard. It has been testified that the next day the suit case and its contents were perfectly dry. The cross examination of Barrett by cousel for the defense was long and severe, but failed to shake the guide's testimony.

With much grewsome detail Robert Morrison, the boatman, who rented Gillette the skiff in which he went rowing with Grace Brown on Big Moose Lake, told in court how he found the overturned boat and the evidences of what was believed a double accidental drowning.

Boatman Morrison went out to find the boat the next day, after the tragedy. Gillette had not returned with the skiff and Morrison rowed around the lake until he came to South Bay. There floating in the water was the overturned boat and near by a man's straw hat.

Half resting on the bottom of the boat and partly submerged, in the water was the silk cape coat of the drowned girl. The coat was a part of her wedding trousseau.

"I saw nothing of the man or woman," said Morrison. "On looking on the inside of the skiff, I saw quantities of hair caught in the cleats. I gathered some of it together and gave it to my sister.

The state will try to prove that after Gillette had knocked the girl to the bottom of the boat, he beat her to death. In his haste to throw the body overboard, it is claimed, her hair, which had become entangled in the cleats, was torn from her scalp as Gillette quickly lifted the body over the side of the skiff.

Lord Curzon and His Wife's Estate.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Through the arrival of Lord Curzon in Chicago the details of Mary Leiter's marriage settlement became known yesterday. In the settlement Lady Curzon received the income from $1,750,000 invested in real estate and bonds, and it was stipulated that if she was survived by her husband Lord Curzon should receive one-third of that amount.

The remainder will be divided between the three children. A secret meeting was held today at the Chicago Club, attended by Lord Curzon, Robert T. Lincoln and Joseph Leiter, to arrange the settlement of Lady Curzon's estate. After the settlement, Lord Curzon will go to Washington, prior to sailing for England.

Boy Attacked by Prairie Wolf.

Greenville, S. C. Nov. 23—A prairie wolf attacked twelve year old Luther Rogers today, and gnawed his right leg nearly off. Abe Nelson, a giant negro blacksmith, rushed to the rescue and crushed the skull of the beast with a blow of his fist. The animal had broken its chain and dashed through the streets, causing a panic among pedestrians. When it attacked the small boy many people stood in horror, afraid to try to save the child. The screams of the lad were heard for squares away and the blacksmith, rushing from his forge, dispatched the wolf. The lad is in a critical condition.

Emperor William in a Rage.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—A story illustrating the absolution of Kaiser William is published today in Maximilan Harden's weekly magazine Zukunft.

While the Kaiser was cruising along the Norwegian coast last July the German minister of Christiana boarded the Hohenzollern at Bergen. Stuebel was formerly colonial minister, but quitted the post in disgrace because of revelations of appalling incompetency. This was not sufficient to deprive him of imperial favor, however, and he was sent to Norway as a solace to his wounded pride.

When he boarded the Hohenzollern Stuebel forgot to bring with him a telegram announcing the birth of the Kaiser's grandson. He causally mentioned the fact that a child had been born to the Crown Prince. The emperor at once flew into a passion. Pounding on a table he shouted: "Fellow, do you tell me that as if it were a casual item of gossip?"

Steubel, pale and trembling, then confessed there were 400 telegrams for the Kaiser which he had left ashore. Ordering every one to remain in his seat, the Kaiser rushed from the cabin to allow his wrath to cool. Stuebel remained aboard the Hohenzoldern during the remainder of the cruise, but the Kaiser never spoke to him and the courtiers boycotted him so that he was left completely to himself.

Mayor to be Arrested.

New York, Nov. 23.—Mayor Eugene A. Schmitz, of San Francisco, will arrive here today on the Hamburg-American steamship Patricia. When he steps upon the pier he will be notified by a detective that he has been indicted for alleged extortion in connection with his administration of the city. He will not be arrested, it is stated, until he reaches San Francisco. The detective will go back with him, however. Schmitz is not supposed to know that he is under indictment, but he may know that Attorney Heney has been brought from Portland, Oregon, to look into administration of affairs and run down the stories of graft which have been current there.

Mayor Eugene A. Schmitz, of San Francisco, was a passenger on board the Patrician which arrived here today. He declared there is not a word of truth in the charges against him, and not a bit of evidence against him, and that it is his intention to hurry right to Frisco to face his accusers and clear his name. Schmitz says the charges against him are actuated by political venoo.

The Charge Against Caruso.

New York, Nov. 23.—The hearing of Enrico Caruso, the tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, on the charge of annoying women in the monkey house in Central Park, will be resumed in Yorkville police court today. Deputy Police Commissioner Mathot, who is conducting the prosecution, stated after the hearing yesterday that he hoped to produce Hannah Graham, the woman on whose complaint Caruso was arrested. If she appears everything will depend upon the testimony she offers. So far witnesses for the different sides have told utterly conflicting stories.

Caruso was not called upon to face the women who made the charges against him. When the continued case was called in the Yorkville court, today, Mr. Mathot prosecuting apologized to the court for his inability to produce "Mrs. Hannah Graham," the woman the grand opera singer is charged with having annoyed.

The Commissioner declared that the woman had moved out of the jurisdiction of the court and that dread of the notoriety attaching to the case had caused her to refuse to testify. No decision was rendered.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Sixty bathrooms will be installed in the fine mansion that Mrs. Clarence Moore is building in this city. One of the bathrooms is to be a work of art, the private bath of Mrs. Moore. It will be a good-sized cave, the roof of which will imitate stalactites. The tub will be a rose-colored shell, and on the walls will be representations of aquatic plants. The floor will be covered with a rug in moss color, and vine-painted curtains will be at the windows.

It is believed the shock incident to the hanging will prove fatal to her. Today's hanging was the first on record in this county where a negro was executed for the murder of another negro.

The prisoners were locked up in the Summit jail for the night and this morning will be taken to Elizabeth. Justice Woodruff conducted the hearing, and Charles, who speaks English, acted as spokesman. He admitted his father and mother had quarreled, but said he had gone away the Saturday night previous to his mother's disappearance and did not return until Tuesday night. His father told him that he had quarreled with his mother and that she left the house about six o'clock. This is the first time that the father has admitted that there had been a quarrel.

McClintock in Bad Shape.

New York, Nov. 23.—Emory McClintock, first vice president of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, may never again be able to resume his official duties. He was stricken with apoplexy two weeks ago, paralysis of his right side following. Although Mr. McClintock has recovered sufficiently to sit up, his condition remains critical and a recurrence of the attack is declared to be imminent. He is at his residence in Morristown, N. J. The fact that the first vice president of the Mutual was ill unto death has been carefully concealed at it was by the barest chance that it was discovered late last night.

It has been a long list of tragedies that has resulted from the expose of the insurance scandal, and there it is a possibility today of the name of McClintock being added to the roll.

Benning.

Good weather brought out a large crowd at Benning yesterday. Big fields and close finishes marked the racing. Sandal Wood, the favorite, captured the steeplechase. Three horses fell in this event. Rather Royal, at 25 to 1, got home first in a field of 18 in the third race, Scarfell, the favorite, being third. Lee Harrison II, who won at a long price Tuesday, won the fourth at 8 to 5. The fifth race was won by Dolly Spanker, the favorite. New York ran second in both the third and fifth races. Angler, the even money favorite, did not show in the last race, Beaucleres winning in a close finish with Bulwark within one second of the track record. Today there was another large attendance at the track.

Held Up by a Negro.

Shortly after 12 o'clock last night while Mr. John Knight was walking on the west side of Fairfax street, between Duke and Wolfe, he was accosted by a strange negro, who had been sitting on the steps of the First Presbyterian Church. The darkey, in an abrupt manner, demanded that Mr. Knight tell him the time. The latter told him he was unable to do so, when the negro called him a vile name and started toward him. Mr. Knight, at this juncture, placed his hand in his hip pocket, as though he was about to draw a pistol, when the negro stepped back, said he begged pardon and quickly vanished out of sight.

Thanksgiving Service.

A special choral service will be held at St. Paul's Church Thanksgiving evening at 8 o'clock, at which P. A. Solos will also be sung by Miss Lucy Graves, Mrs. William Woolls, Miss Maude Harding, Mr. J. Harris Franklin and Mr. Richard Wirt. The Elks will hold a meeting next Monday for the purpose of either adopting or rejecting the new constitution adopted by the Grand Lodge at Denver, Col.

Dance.

The autumn dance last night at McBurney's Hall given by the Thursday Night Assembly was a very delightful affair, and all who attended enjoyed a pleasant evening. The committee of arrangements were Messrs Jerome Kaufmann, Harry Dachslager and Henry Steiner, and they spared no efforts in making the dance a success.

The Smith Relief Fund.

The following additional contributions to the fund being raised for the widow and children of Charles T. Smith are published. The fund to date amounts to $286.70:

At a meeting held at the Hotel Fleischmann last night it was determined to accept the offer of the Lyceum Dramatic Club, composed of members of the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum, to repeat at the Opera House "The Showman's Ward," a three-act comedy drama, for the benefit of the family of Charles T. Smith. Smith was murdered several weeks ago while assisting a policeman in an effort to arrest a negro desperado.

A committee of arrangements was appointed with Mr. Herbert McCuen as chairman. The play will be presented December 4, under the direction of Mr. A. D. Montier. The members of the Board of Police Commissioners have agreed that policemen may sell tickets for the entertainment.

Athletic Club.

The Young Men's Athletic Club has been organized with about thirty of Alexandria's best athletes. They have secured Schuler's hall, which is being fitted up accordingly. Indoor games of the season will be indulged in, and it is the intention of the members to give a dance weekly which, when inaugurated, will be looked forward to eagerly by all friends of the club. A meeting will be held Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the hall of the club, and all members are requested to be present.

Oyster Supper and Dance.

An interesting meeting of Belle Haven Council, Junior Order of Mechanics, was held in Odd Fellows' Hall on north Columbus street, last night. After the business before the meeting had been transacted, the members of the council and a number of their friends sat down to an oyster supper. This was followed by a dance in which lady friends of the order participated.

THE OPEN-SHOP POLICY.

Discussion and perhaps denunciation is in store for the "open shop" policy of the government printing office on the floor of the present convention of the American Federation of Labor, now in session in Minneapolis.

A resolution has been introduced under special order by Delegate Glocking, in behalf of the International Typographical Union, the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union, and the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders.

It recites an order by Public Printer Charles A. Stillings directing the foremen and chiefs of divisions to prepare lists of employes whose services can be dispensed with, basing their findings on the efficiency, character, deportment, health, cleanliness, attendance, length of service, future desirability, and special defects of the men in question.

This order, the resolution avers, tends to humiliate the employes of the office and "will bring dissatisfaction, discord, disorganization, and results prejudicial to the best interests and efficiency of the government printing office. It also says the resolution, tends to "prejudice the standard and independence of an American citizen."

The resolution calls on the federation to investigate, through its executive council, the general policy of Mr. Stillings toward employes of the government printing office, and recommends that "Heads of departments removed from positions by reason of refusal to stultify themselves by aiding in such methods be offered every protection by the American Federation of Labor."

Back of this resolution is a suspicion on the part of trades unionists that the proposed weeding out process is a ruse to cover the discharge of union employee. It is probable that the "open shop" policy announced by President Roosevelt in the Miller case will come in for its share of comment when this resolution is taken up.

Hid Silk Stockings in the Sugar Bowl.

Of all places in the world, Mrs. Zayda V. Dalton, of Milwaukee, chose the sugar bowl to hide three pairs of silk stockings so that her husband would not find them. Yet Dalton found them, he swore on Tuesday; also that he firmly believes Albert Heinemann gave the silk stockings to Mrs. Dalton when they were at the Empire restaurant.

Dalton, a well-known contracting freight agent, is suing the president of the George H. Heinemann Manufacturing Company for $25,000 damages, charging that he alienated Mrs. Dalton's love. Dalton testified Wednesday that one night his wife told him she was going to a little card party at the Aberdeen Club.

"Instead she went to a dinner at the Calumet Club," said Mr. Dalton. "She did not come home that night, she told me she stopped with a woman friend. Later she told me she 'ran across' Heinemann."

Fairfax Notes.

A large and very handsome memorial window has been placed in Zion P. E. Church, in memory of the late Mrs. D. E. Vedder.

Miss Ada DeAnne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Davis, and Dr. J. Smillie, of Binbrooke, Canada, were married Wednesday afternoon, November 14th, at the home of the parents of the bride, "Le Forest Farm."

The partial restoration of the interior of Pohick Church, including the chancel, pulpit and half the pews, is about completed. The first services since the work was begun will be held Sunday, December 2nd, when Rev. S. A. Wallis, D. D., of the Theological Seminary, former rector of the church, will preach the sermon.

Word has been received here of the death of Mr. E. E. Malone, on November 9th, at Goldfield, Nevada. Mr. Malone was a Confederate soldier, having served in the Seventeenth Va. Regiment throughout the war. He leaves a widow (formerly Miss Kate Gunnell, of this place) and four children; also two sisters, Mrs. Geo. R. Brandon and Mrs. R. R. Farr, of our town; and two brothers Dr. W. P. Malone, of Washington, and Mr. Wm. J. Malone, of Charlotte, N. C.

Mr. Walter T. Oliver having resigned the office of mayor of the town of Fairfax, the vacancy was filled by the town council by the election of Mr. R. R. Farr. Mr. Farr is our postmaster, and the question arose as to his eligibility. Judge Nicol, on Tuesday, decided that he could not hold both offices, and at a meeting of the town council Tuesday night Mr. W. Ballard was elected mayor. Mr. H. G. Sauls, a rural mail carrier, was also held to be ineligible as councilman, and Mr. M. C. Wiley was elected in his stead.

There are two reports in circulation regarding railroad matters in this county that we will give, but cannot vouch for their correctness. One is that the Great Falls & Old Dominion Electric R. R. Co. has surveyors at work locating a line or an extension of the present road from Great Falls to Winchester. Another report is that Major Charles Hine is about to have work commenced grading a branch road from the substation of the O. F. & O. D. E. R. R. near Springhill farm to Vienna, and has engaged Mr. W. H. Bowman to use his traction engine to do the work.—[Herald.

R., F. & P. R. R.

As stated yesterday unless the railroads consent to appoint some man to the presidency of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad who will be free from Pennsylvania or any other railroad influence, and at the same time be acceptable to Gov. Swanson, an extra session of the State legislature may be called. Among the measures said to be contemplated for the protection of the interests of the State and the independent stockholders in the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac will be a bill to prevent one railroad from holding stock in another, or if the stock has already been purchased prior to the enactment of the measure, to forbid the proprietary railroad from voting it. Such a law was in existence several years ago, but it has been repealed.

The passage of such a law at present would be a terrific blow to the Atlantic Coast Line, preventing it from voting its controlling interest in the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, for which the Atlantic Coast Line paid about $50,000,000. It would also be a heavy blow to the Southern Railway, which controls so many small lines by stock ownership.

"If the four Virginia railroads holding the balance of power in the Richmond Fredericksburg and Potomac situation are governed by reason and refused to be bulldozed by Samuel Rea or any other Pennsylvania Railroad official," said a Richmond business man yesterday, "they are bound to retain Judge Leake or elect a successor who will be acceptable to Governor Swanson. The power of the State Legislature is too great to be trifled with by any railroads corporation, and if the Governor is compelled to call the legislature together to protect the State against the railroad the State is sure to carry the war into the enemy's country, and the railroads will have themselves to blame for the consequences."

Assaulted and Murdered.

The finding of the body of Miss Dora Gilman, a beautiful young woman, on a lonely common in the suburb of New Arlington Heights near Dayton, Ohio., yesterday morning brought to light a repetition of the atrocious murderers of young women that have startled Dayton in the past few years. The discovery also solved the mystery of the disappearance of Miss Gilman Tuesday evening but has furnished the police with a greater puzzle to solve. Several crimes similar to this have occurred in Dayton. As none of them was cleared up nor the murderer apprehended, women and girls are in a state of fear.

Miss Gilman was employed in the bindery of the National Cash Register plant, and the last seen of her was Tuesday evening, when she parted from a group of girls and left a street car to walk to her home several squares from the car line.

The condition of the body when found showed that she had been maltreated and then slain. The throat bore the imprints of fingers; showing that she had been strangled to death. There were indications of a desperate struggle for life on her part. The weeds were trampled down over a large space about the spot where the body lay, and the soft earth was full of footprints. Bloodhounds were taken to the common yesterday afternoon, but they failed to accomplish anything.

Mrs. Gilman, widowed mother of the murdered girl, is prostrated, and it is feared the shock will cause her death.

A Scene in Court.

During the trial of George T. Burke in the Criminal Court at Baltimore yesterday afternoon, on the charge of criminally assaulting Sara Elizabeth Kilpatrick, aged fifteen years, Miss Kilpatrick created a scene by screaming and yelling when the bailiff of the court and two deputy jail wardens attempted to remove her by order of Judge Harlan, on the charge of contempt of court. Miss Kilpatrick refused to answer any of Judge Harlan's questions, even when threatened with a jail sentence. In order to influence the girl, Sheriff George Padgett was sent for by Judge Harlan under the impression that the terror of his office would unloosen the girl's tongue. When this failed the judge committed her to jail until today. When the bailiff and two deputies tried to remove Miss Kilpatrick she threw herself headlong on the floor of the Criminal Court room, and her screams and shrieks could be heard through the massive walls of the building. Even after being taken downstairs in the cells below the courtroom her shrieks could be distinctly heard.

The December Metropolitan, which has been received from its publishers in New York; is a Christmas number of merit, artistically and entertainingly put together. Its most important article is that on the "Empress Eugenie;" sketches of Prince Troubertzkoy, and Geraldine Farrar are also given. Five pictures illustrating scenes in novels of Robert Louis Stevenson are reproduced in sepia. Fiction is represented by seven good stories. "The World at Large" shows a new idea in magazine make up, and the other departments are up to the usual standard of this excellent magazine.

JEWELRY.

THE DINING-ROOM

is used oftener than almost any other room in the house. That is why it should be made the most comfortable spot, and be pleasingly arranged.

Without cut glass and silverware a dining room makes little impression and is hardly home like. A few pieces tastily arranged will make a better effect than many of them placed indiscriminately.

A silver fern dish puts a finish to the table and livens up the room. A silver set is needed to decorate the sideboard. A few cut glass pieces so arranged as to contrast with the tea set will make the sideboard as it should be. The cut glass required are decanters, berry bowls and fruit dishes. The only other silver piece that should be in evidence is the candelabra.

If you want your dining room to be just so have the bread trays and other trays of silver. Even the crumb tray and scraper should be silver-plated.

The steel knives should have silver-plated handles to match the silver-plated spoons, knives and forks.

If you are not satisfied unless your dining-room is properly fitted, you are undoubtedly particular about your own person. It is just as well that you are. A little attention to your ownself begets attention from others. Wear a diamond ring or two, a locket, watch and chain. As the chain is more in evidence than the watch or the locket, you may as well wear the best there is—the guaranteed Z-K Gold Chain.

Let us fit out the dining-room as well as yourself. Prices very reasonable.

Reinterment Ceremonies.

After being held up by the dense fog overhanging the Delaware, the gunboat Dubuque, bearing the body of James Wilson a signer of the Declaration of Independence from Edenton, N.C., to Philadelphia, docked yesterday. Gov. Pennypacker and other members of the escort of honor, met the gunboat at the wharf and the coffin was transported to Independence Hall. There the coffin was on view in the room where the Declaration was signed. In the afternoon the reinterment ceremonies were carried out, according to programme.

Services were conducted at Christ Church, Bishop Coadjutor Mackay-Smith, of the Episcopal Church, officiating. Attorney General Hampton T. Carson delivered the funeral oration. Other speeches will be delivered by Judge Alton B. Parker, Andrew Carnegie, Sweir Mitchell, Senator Knox and Attorney General Moody.

A reception to distinguished guests yesterday evening closed the ceremonies.

The hearing of the case of the creditors of Count Boni de Castellane was resumed in Paris, yesterday, Maitre Jacobson, for M. Zeigler, one of the largest creditors, indignantly denied that his client was a usurer. Counsel asserted that it had been the practice of the Castellanes ever since their marriage to appeal to him to extricate them from financial difficulties. Counsel for the other creditors will be heard today.
